Last Obsequies over Remains of the Late John Bailie

AT FOURTH STREET M. E. CHURCH

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON, AND ATTENDED BY MANY FRIENDS OF THE DECEASED, WHO ENJOYED UNIVERSAL RESPECT AND ESTEEM IN THIS COMMUNITY—AN ELOQUENT TRIBUTE BY DR. SOOY—THE INTERMENT AT GREENWOOD.

The funeral of John Bailie, which occurred yesterday afternoon, was the occasion of an imposing testimonial of the esteem in which the deceased was held. The services were held at the Fourth street M. E. church, with which Mr. Bailie had been connected since his coming to Wheeling from Steubenville, in 1858. He leaves a gap in the church that will not soon be forgotten, and fitting action was taken by the several organizations within the church last night.

It was a thoroughly representative audience that packed the church auditorium yesterday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, when the pastor, Rev. J. L. Sooy, D. D., opened the services. Beside the pastor were stationed the following clergymen: Rev. D. A. Cunningham, D. D., of the First Presbyterian church; Rev. J. H. Little, of the United Presbyterian church; Rev. A. Moore, D. D., presiding elder; Rev. C. B. Graham, North street M. E. church; Rev. C. E. Clarke, Thimmon M. E. church; Rev. W. J. Harkness, Ph. D., Chapline street M. E. church, and Rev. Mr. Nanna. The remains were taken from the family residence on Fifteenth street, at 1 o'clock, to the church, by the pall bearers, who were, Messrs. Henry K. List, John A. Kyle, A. J. Clarke, Hugh Sterling, C. W. Brockmiller and Dr. R. H. Bullard. Until the exercises opened an hour later several hundred people viewed the remains. At 2 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Sooy, with the three sisters and brother of the deceased and other relatives, entered the church.

Dr. Sooy opened with the ritual service, after which the choir sang a favorite hymn of Mr. Bailie's, "There's a Sunshine in My Soul." Rev. Mr. Graham led in prayer, and scriptural lessons were read by Rev. Dr. Harkness and Rev. Mr. Nanna. Mrs. Frank Stanton then beautifully sang another hymn, of which the deceased was very fond, "I'll go where you want me to go, dear Lord." At the conclusion of this solo, Rev. Dr. Sooy delivered an eulogy of the deceased, which was supplemented by remarks by Dr. Cunningham and Dr. Moore. The concluding prayer was offered by Rev. J. H. Little.

In speaking of John Bailie's life, from a spiritual standpoint, Dr. Sooy had a faithful theme, and he paid the deceased none too much tribute for his godly character. Dr. Sooy reviewed Mr. Bailie's life in Wheeling, speaking of his affiliation with Fourth street in 1858, and his earnest efforts in succeeding years in the capacity of steward, which he held for the longest term known in the church's history, of his labors in Sunday school, of his work in every channel conducive to his church's history, and his kindly interest in poor and broken down preachers. But it was of Mr. Bailie's conscience that Dr. Sooy was particularly eloquent and forceful, a conscience, he said, which would stand in the future as it had in the past, a rebuke to worldliness, Sabbath desecration, and dishonesty in business. The speaker referred to the life of prayer that Mr. Bailie had led, and stated that Mr. Bailie prayed at least three times every day, in the small room, back of his office, the corner of Twelfth and Market streets. Mr. Bailie was a Christian, with the courage of his convictions, and Dr. Sooy's remarks, as well as those of the speakers who followed him, found a responsive echo in the hearts of the congregation.

When the exercises at the church concluded, the remains were conveyed to Greenwood cemetery for interment. Among those from a distance attending the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. James B. Dorrington, of Allegheny; Judge W. McD. Miller, M. L. Miller, Mrs. McClinton, Misses Mary and Emma McDonald and H. L. Wilson, of Steubenville, and Samuel McDonald, of Washington, D. C.

Testimonial from Fourth St. M. E. Church. The following testimonial was offered by the board of stewards and adopted by the official board of the Fourth Street Methodist Episcopal church, of this city, at a full meeting held Monday evening, November 7:

The sudden death of our brother, John Bailie, has saddened all our hearts. There has fallen upon this board, upon this church and upon the community a blow that is all the more crushing because of its terrible awfulness. For many years he has been a steward in this church, and no one could ever have been more faithful to any trust than he has been to the discharge of every duty of this office.

We who have been long associated with him, feel a loss that words cannot express. Any tribute adorned with flowers of rhetoric must come from those who knew him not as well as we loved him less than we. It is our duty to speak the unadorned truth concerning him. We can speak it plainly now and say much that his modest nature would not permit us to utter while he lived.

The church, the community and the world need so much such men as John Bailie was, that from a human standpoint it seems that the length of his life on earth was too short for such a life. God left him with us long enough for us to learn to love him as a brother and to appreciate in some measure his worth and ability as a steward, his example as a Christian and his character as a man.

He was diligent and constant in his efforts to do all that the highest sense of duty could account any part of the work of a good, faithful and efficient steward. His life was such that all classes of the people in this community regarded him as a model Christian. He was a man of tender sympathy, warm, charity, pure heart, upright life, unswerving conscience and unyielding principle. His was a lovely character.

We offer the following resolutions: Resolved, That the above testimonial to the memory of our beloved brother, John Bailie, be recorded in the minutes of the stewards of Fourth Street Methodist Episcopal church.

Resolved, That his bereaved sisters and brother have our heartfelt sympathy and earnest prayers that "The God of all comfort" may sustain and console and richly bless him.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

The problem of discovering new pools and a subsequent increase in new production is no nearer solution at the commencement of the second week of this month than six months ago, says "D. S. W." in his weekly oil review. Work with that end in view has not been suspended for a single day during that period. Week after week and month after month have passed only to see test well after well fall into the duster list without the slightest information as to the probable location of a new pool.

Only operators who have never given up the search and those who have kept in close touch with the business, know of the up hill fight that has been made to develop new territory since the first of the year. A single glance over the Southwest and lower Southwest is sufficient to convince one that the little congested Whiskey Run pool in Ritchie county, W. Va., has been the "whole thing." For a brief period the production was up to 4,000 barrels a day, but it saw an early finish and the entire production of the pool at this time is probably less than five hundred barrels a day. From the money making point of view the pool was a failure. Its area was small and the wells, as a rule, did not possess the required staying qualities to enable more than a very few operators to get out whole. One individual operator and possibly but three companies will quit Whiskey Run ahead of the money invested. Not, it must be admitted, a very good showing for the most formidable discovery of the year. A comparison of the profit and loss account during the past ten months would show a large balance on the wrong side of the ledger.

Much attention has been given to the development of the salt sand territory, but it has proven a disappointment. Some operators who thought well of it early in the year quit in disgust. The Berea formation in Wood county has been more regular and as a money maker more satisfactory than any of the more shallow sand developments in the lower Southwest. The local territory, however, has been nearly or quite defined and operations are on the wane. All things considered, there has been more money made in Wood county, Berea sand, during the year than in any other part of the lower Southwest. For three or four months, the Cow Run sand territory has been operated with a good deal of energy in Wood and Pleasant counties. Occasionally a good well has been drilled in, but it did not establish the fact that another as good could be found within a mile of its location. Nature seems to have scattered these shallow sand pools around in a most promiscuous manner and owing to their small size it is much easier to miss than hit one in looking for them.

Keener sand territory in Monroe county is about the only section under development at the present time. Every operator at Jackson Ridge realizes that he is up against a good thing and no small amount of money can make him part with his holdings. It is great territory for lasting producers and even though the wells are small, they will pay out in time and give handsome returns on the money invested.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at Logan Drug Co.'s store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.
